Summary

Led by U.S. Air Force Civil Engineering veteran Jacquelyn Thomas, AInspire Solutions brings the discipline and structure of military operations to AI strategy and workforce development. Her experience managing infrastructure projects and operating within highly regulated military environments shapes how the firm approaches every engagement, organized, practical, and focused on results.

AInspire Solutions helps government agencies and enterprise organizations adopt AI responsibly and effectively. The firm works with leadership teams and operational staff to define clear AI roadmaps, strengthen workforce capability, and implement AI in ways that reduce risk while improving performance.

"AI adoption succeeds when governance, workforce readiness, and operational execution move together."
- Jacquelyn Thomas, CEO
